Summary: Throughout this study we will learn about a topic we are all familiar with – clothing! From birth we are exposed to different fabrics, closures, textures, and types of clothing – why not use this as a learning opportunity! Over the month of February we will discuss what we want to learn about clothes, how to take care of them, what clothes are made from and what special types of clothes there are. This study is always fun and relatable for our preschoolers. We look forward to investigating this topic together!
